

Book Presentation & Discussion

THROUGH THE ROOF

Housing, Capitalism, and the State
in America and Germany

Alexander Reisenbichler, Associate Professor in the Department of Political Science at the University of Toronto

in conversation with:

Anna Steigemann, Professor of Sociological Dimensions of Space at DIMAS (UR)

Date: Tuesday, 24 June 2025, 18:15–19:45

Location: Room S. 214, Sammelgebäude, UR Campus

What drives the housing market through the roof?

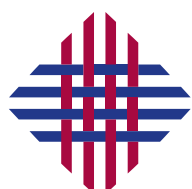

Combining insights from political science, economics, history, and sociology, Alexander Reisenbichler's book offers a rich, interdisciplinary perspective on the politics of housing. It also provides the first English-language account of German housing policy from the early 20th century to the present.

The event offers an opportunity for the audience to discuss one of the key issues of our time, housing policy in its current and historical dimensions.
